NEIGHBORHOOD HEALTH PLAN NAMES CAPEZZA AS NEW CFO

30-year finance veteran will help NHP build MassHealth, commercial businesses

October 2016 (BOSTON) — Neighborhood Health Plan (NHP) announced it has appointed veteran health care finance professional Joseph C. Capezza as the company's new Chief Financial Officer.

Reporting directly to NHP's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Capezza will lead the health plan's Finance Department and oversee financial operations, including: accounting, budgeting, long-range and capital planning, financial reporting, revenue and program integrity management, data and medical trend analytics, actuarial services, and underwriting.

Mr. Capezza has more than 30 years of experience as a CFO in the health care and insurance industries. He has served as finance chief for such leading companies as California's Health Net, Inc., Harvard Pilgrim Health Care, and the Reliance Insurance Group of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

As Harvard Pilgrim's CFO, Mr. Capezza contributed to that company's recovery as it regained profitability following the Massachusetts insurance commissioner placing the company in receivership in 2000 after Harvard Pilgrim sustained nearly $230 million in financial losses.

"Joseph Capezza's extensive and impressive knowledge and experience in both commercial and Medicaid sectors of the health insurance industry will be invaluable to NHP as we continue to improve our financial performance while providing high quality services to our customers," said President and CEO David Segal.

"Joe's proven leadership will be very helpful to NHP as we continue to rebuild our finances, improve our under-performing businesses and focus on commercial growth," said Segal.

In addition to his financial responsibilities in these posts, Mr. Capezza also contributed to the growth and financial stability of these companies by assisting in creating and monitoring their strategic business plans and representing the firms with such key constituencies as debt and equity investors, rating agencies, Wall Street analysts, members of senior management and the Board of Directors.
